SIXTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

MAY 10, 2026

Next Week's Readings: May 17, 2026

1st Reading: Acts of the Apostles 1:1-11(58A)

2nd Reading: Ephesians 1:17-23

Gospel: Matthew 28:16-20

John 14:15-21

Whoever has my commandments and observes them is the one who loves me. (John 14:21)

On the night before his crucifixion, Jesus gave his disciples two clear commandments. First, after having washed their feet, he told them to “wash one another’s feet” (John 13:14). Then he commanded them, “Love one another” (13:34). Now, in today’s Gospel, he says that whoever observes these commands to wash feet and show love is “the one who loves” him (14:21).

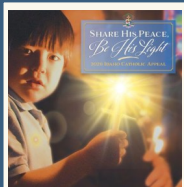

What a surprising combination! We can be so used to labeling, categorizing, and compartmentalizing aspects of our lives: our work life, our home life, our spiritual life, and the like. But Jesus is telling us that two seemingly unrelated areas belong together and depend on each other: loving him and loving one another. We can’t love him, he says, if we are not caring for the people around us. To say that we love the Lord while we are holding someone in contempt or harboring hatred against someone is to miss the point of his gospel message. It’s to miss the point of his cross.

This is a challenging message, but it’s also good news. The idea of loving Jesus—the eternal Son of God who dwells in unapproachable glory—can seem overwhelming. How can we who are sinners ever love such a being? But Jesus assures us that it’s easier than we might think: “Whatever you did for one of these least brothers of mine,” he says, “you did for me” (Matthew 25:40). Every time we show love, mercy, compassion, or generosity to someone, we are showing it to Jesus. No act or gesture is too small. Jesus receives it as if it were given directly to him. Because, in a very real sense, it is!

Do you want to observe Jesus’ commandments? And do you want to love him more fully? The answer may be as close as the person sitting across the dinner table from you or the person down the street who needs a helping hand.

“Jesus, help me to love you more deeply by loving others more faithfully.”

SONS of ST. JOSEPH
A Brotherhood for Men Open to the Priesthood
 Sons of St. Joseph Begins May 1st - Apply Now
 The Sons of St. Joseph is a brotherhood for men and young men who are open to the priesthood. Are you older than 13 and open to the priesthood? This is for you.
 Guys that are open to the priesthood often think they have to figure it all out on their own. They browse websites, listen to lectures, read books about discernment, and the result is often increased confusion and isolation.
 It doesn't have to be this way. God is our Father and the Church is our Mother. St. Joseph and the Blessed Mother are here to love, protect, care for, and guide us.
 The process of exploring the priesthood should be, above all, a journey of discovering who we truly are: beloved sons.
